“The forest is very important for the next generation and for us. There are vegetables and wild animals living in this forest. So, it is important to protect them from being destroyed, and animals from being killed.”

— Snay Thong, Tuen Village, Cambodia.

A major focus of Development and Peace — Caritas Canada’s People and Planet First campaign is advocating for a law that compels Canadian companies to respect the human and environmental rights of local populations in their overseas operations. This fall, acting in solidarity with their brothers and sisters in the Global South, thousands of Canadians signed a petition asking the government to enact such a law.

On behalf of all those who struggle to preserve their land, lives, livelihoods and lifestyles, Development and Peace — Caritas Canada thanks you for your commitment and mobilization. Together, we act in solidarity with the protectors of the Earth. Together, we have the power to change lives.

“We don’t believe clean energy is a bad thing, but it is the way they are installing it. It’s not good that they are destroying very old trees and nature, that is why we are resisting these projects.”

— Félix Pedro Pastrana Escobar of the community of Costa Sur in Namasigüe, Honduras.
